

The Port Arthur News

VOL. XXIII, NO. 108.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1934.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

'COOLIDGE AND DAWES' REPUBLICAN TEAM 48 DIE IN BACKFIRE OF WARSHIP'S GUNS

SHORT STORIES

Facts With Fills, Fancies
And Otherwise
By "S. S."

Father's Day next Sunday.

Paint nearly washed off flag pole on federal building.

DAILY SHIP SCORE: In Port Arthur, 7; at Beaumont, 2.

German ship Grete Hugo Stines docked at Sabine this a. m.

Scout carnival closed at Knights of Columbus home Thursday night.

M. M. Harshbarger re-elected president of the Refinery Workers Local here.

A. B. Schneider's membership in the summer bachelors' club expires Sunday night.

Texas tasting his first home radish at luncheon today likened it to broom weed.

Fine weather for tennis, if the players are heads, Cap'n Dave Eddy likes to remark.

Cherokee tribe, improved Order of Red Men, will nominate officers next Thursday night.

A. A. Gunter, assistant collector of customs, delivered into a musty, legal volume this a. m.

Gulf company's steam yacht Wild Duck sold and delivered to the Miami Steamship company.

Cap'n Joe Cortwell and Cap'n John Kaper first outside pilots to come in port with ships this a. m.

John R. Adams spent Thursday night in the Gulf out of Sabine.

Dr. Adamson, U. S. quarantine officer at Sabine, visited Dr. T. J. Laddell, U. S. P. H. service chief here this a. m.

Answer: "Yeah, enjoying this fine weather." Looks around in startled fashion, jumps around the corner, saying: "No, no, here it is over here."

F. M. Drunagel and son, Freddie, left this morning for two weeks business trip to Pittsburgh, Kans. While in Kansas they will visit relatives.

Play in One-Half Act: Port Arthur standing on corner at 2 p. m. Another one comes along and asks the brilliant question: "Working hard?"

"Half of Beaumont over here the other night," said the man up at the Plaza last morning. Maybe there were about 75 in three or four parties.

Vaden Logsdon has returned from Rice Institute at Houston to spend the summer here with Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Logsdon of 620 Charleston avenue.

Ground around recruiting station this morning listening to "Louisiana Blues" and "Waiting for the Evening Mail," as well as by a negro plunking on banjo.

Speeding flier cut didoes as it swung and skidded into Austin avenue out of Procter street Thursday night, nearly overturning before the driver got it straightened out.

Sergeant Deibel left off bounding the typewriter in the U. S. public health service office long enough this a. m. to assist the surgeon in the clinic while Dr. Samuel Senner, regular assistant, was out on an errand.

ELIZABETH GREENLEE RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

AUSTIN, Texas, June 13.—Elizabeth Greenlee, of Corsicana, has been awarded the Whiteside scholarship of $400 for the next session of the University of Texas. In memory of her husband, J. L. Whiteside, Mrs. Kate Jones Whiteside, of Corsicana, has established the J. L. Whiteside Navarro county students' fund with an endowment of $5,000. The interest of the fund is available to young men and women of Navarro county, either as a scholarship or as a loan.

FAIR

LOCAL FORECAST: Tonight and Saturday, generally fair, continued warm.

FOR EAST TEXAS: Tonight and Saturday, generally fair, continued warm.

FOR LOUISIANA: Tonight, Saturday and Sunday, generally fair, continued warm.

WINDS ON TEXAS COAST: Light to fresh southerly.

Highest temperature yesterday, 92; lowest, 73; precipitation, none.

Year Ago Today: Highest, 86; lowest, 67; precipitation, 1.12 in.

Sunrise this evening, 7:15 p. m. Sunrise tomorrow, 7:14 p. m.

Time of high and low water at Sabine Pass Light under normal conditions on Saturday, June 15, taken from tables prepared by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey:

High tides: 1:22 p. m.; 12 p. m.

Low tides: 6:47 a. m.; 7:55 p. m.

TEXAS WEATHER AND ROADS

Dallas—Clear, roads good.

Fort Worth—Clear, roads good.

Houston—Clear, roads good.

San Antonio—Clear, roads good.

Bandits Use Tear Bombs, Shotguns to Rob Chicago Mail Train of $1,000,000

1 SHOT DURING BOLD HOLDUP

Hundreds Join in Search For Fleeing Thieves

ROBBERY AT MIDNIGHT

Train of 11 Cars Forced To Submit

CHICAGO, June 13.—Hundreds of heavily armed police, detectives and sheriff's deputies staged an all-Illinois man hunt today throughout Northern Illinois in search of a handful of robbers who held up the special mail train 30 miles north of Chicago last night and escaped with $1,000,000 of registered mail, including currency and securities valued at between $1,000,000 and $2,500,000.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Forty-two sacks of mail, containing cash and bonds estimated at between $1,000,000 and $2,500,000 were seized last night by a band of between 25 and 30 men who held up the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train near Roundout, Ill., 30 miles north of Chicago.

Guns bombs were used by the bandits on two cars, which mail clerks refused to open. The bandits asked for more than an hour, sorting out the mail sacks. One of them was shot accidentally by a comrade, police stated. After the robbery the bandits sped away in automobiles in the direction of Chicago. Hundreds of police and citizens armed with shotguns and other weapons, searched the territory between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Bullets Whistle By
Shortly before midnight, as the mail train approached Roundout, someone pulled the signal cord. When the signal was pulled, the train was stopped. A band of robbers, armed with shotguns and other weapons, rushed out of the darkness. One of the robbers fired a bullet through the window of a car, striking a mail clerk. The clerk was wounded. The robbers then rushed to the engine, which was pulling the train. They forced the engine to stop. The robbers then searched the mail cars. They found the mail sacks and took them. The robbers then sped away in automobiles.

Play in One-Half Act: Port Arthur standing on corner at 2 p. m. Another one comes along and asks the brilliant question: "Working hard?"

"Half of Beaumont over here the other night," said the man up at the Plaza last morning. Maybe there were about 75 in three or four parties.

MRS. LEGGETT DIES ON VISIT

Expires Suddenly at Home Of Sister in Arkansas

Within a few hours after arriving in Fort Smith, Ark., to visit her sister, Mrs. Grace Leggett, of 1840 Thomas boulevard, succumbed to what relatives here believe was a heart attack.

In response to the message telling of the sudden death of his wife in Fort Smith about 11 p. m. Thursday night, her husband, John C. Leggett, left for Arkansas at noon today, and will take the body of his wife to Winchester, Indiana, where burial will be made.

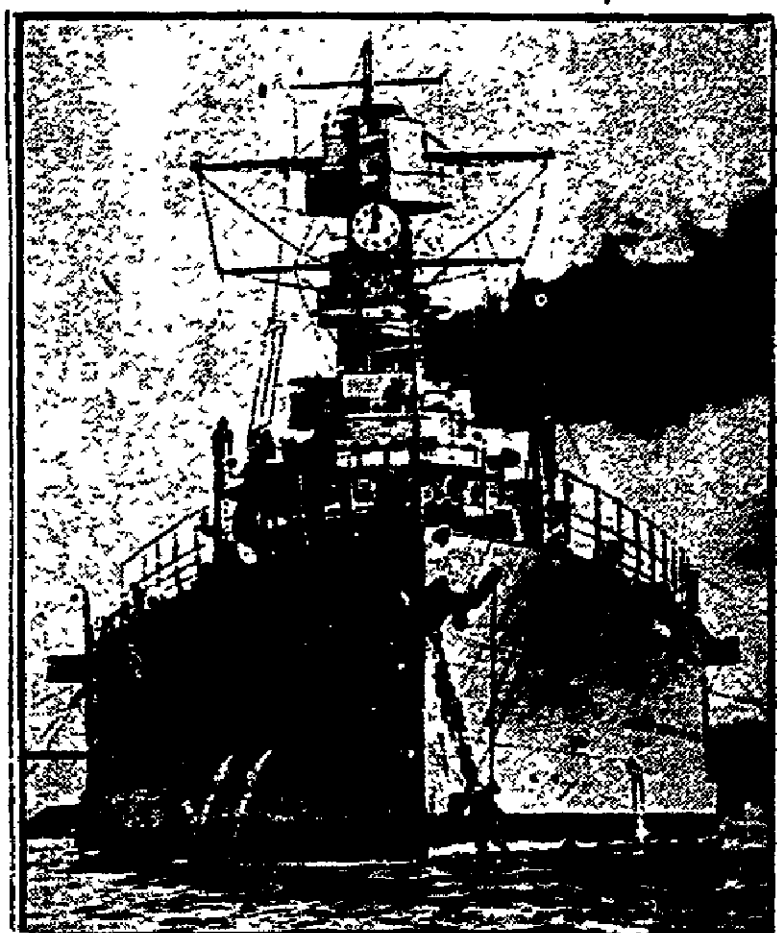

Mrs. Leggett was accompanied to Fort Smith by her youngest daughter, Ruth, and two other daughters, Laura and Doris. They were on their way to Winchester, Indiana, to spend vacation with relatives. Mrs. Leggett had been a resident of Port Arthur for the past year, and her husband is employed at the Gulf Refining company.

THIRTEEN HER LUCKY NUMBER, SHE SAYS

NEW YORK, June 13.—Today is Friday the thirteenth. Which reminded Mrs. John Steele, floor clerk on the thirteenth floor of the Hotel Waldorf:

She was born on the 13th. She was married on the 13th. She was employed by the Waldorf 13 years ago.

Mississippi Rides Waters in Usual Place After Guns Hurl Death Message

CONDITIONALLY OKEY MERGER

N. O. T. and M. Consolidated With I. G. N.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 13.—Acquisition by the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railway company of control of the I. G. N. company by purchase of its capital stock was conditionally approved and authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission today.

The consolidation was opposed by the state of Texas on the ground that it was a violation of the state constitution and laws.

Opponents of the merger also held it would unfairly favor the port of New Orleans and discriminate against Texas Gulf ports.

"Should Bring Economy"
The commission gave its approval, provided if later it were determined the merger was not in the public interest, the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railway should not own the I. G. N. company.

The proposed acquisition apparently should effect large economies in operation and strengthen the general transportation system in the territory served by the two lines. Unified operation should result in improved service, with a tendency toward reduction of some rates through the establishment of a one line-haul.

The acquisition proposed is in accord with our tentative plan in the consolidation of railroads as both lines are included in system number 12.

'T' LINE CASE IS UP TODAY

Elimination of This As Port Of Call Is Issue

The Transmarine Corporation case in which Port Arthur is seeking to prevent the steamship line from eliminating this city as a port of call are scheduled to be heard today beginning at 10 o'clock before a special examiner of the Interstate Commerce commission in Washington.

Port Arthur is represented at the hearing by H. Y. Taylor, traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, and by Henry Keene, Washington attorney and port expert employed as special counsel in the case. The hearing is expected to continue today and probably tomorrow.

FRIDAY 13 JINX BEGINS EARLY

Leon Callahan Breaks Arm In Auto Crash

7 OTHERS IN MISHAPS

Autos in Epidemic of Turnovers Here

Friday, the 13th, began its series of ill-fated happenings in the Port Arthur vicinity before midnight and by daylight eight accounted automobile wrecks with one man known to have been injured, were already a matter of record.

Seven of the wrecks were on the Beaumont-Port Arthur highway, and the eighth at the corner of Sixth and Mobile streets in the city limits.

Shoulder Broken
The injured man is Leon Callahan, 140 West 14th street, whose Ford in which he was riding with a companion ran into a ditch on the highway. He suffered a broken shoulder but was able to leave the hospital this morning. The Ford is said to have turned a complete somersault after hitting the ditch. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock.

Shortly after midnight an epidemic of turnovers and collisions seemed to have gotten into the spirit of the hoodoo. Five after the injured man was brought to the hospital.

Jinx Begins to Work
Three cars were wrecked shortly after two with a Ford and a Dodge sedan the principals. The Dodge, occupied by negroes, was ploughed into the side of the road. A Ford touring car following behind plunged into the wreck of the Ford sedan and the Dodge.

A few minutes later a Ford sedan ran into the wreckage, threw on brakes, turned completely around and raised a fender off. In the wreckage, hospital reports from Port Arthur and Beaumont reveal, but one victim needing immediate medical attention.

This morning, at Sixth and Mobile, two wrecked cars were the lone evidence of a collision during the night.

PERRY ANTHIS DIES SUDDENLY

Acute Indigestion Claims Victim After Picnic

After an evening spent on a picnic with the members of the Bible classes of the First Christian church at Port Neches last night, Perry Anthis, city employee, was found by his wife in a dying condition a few hours later at their home 1207 Nineteenth street and was dead before physicians could arrive.

Justice W. F. James was summoned to hold an inquest and after viewing the body, turned the case over to Dr. J. A. Gibson, county health officer. Dr. Gibson pronounced death due to natural causes and said acute indigestion was the immediate cause of the death.

According to those who attended the picnic of the First Christian Bible classes last night, Anthis was in unusually high spirits. He was seen by R. E. Yeldersham said Anthis entered into the games and diversions with zest and was the "life of the party."

Returning from Port Neches about midnight, Anthis retired as usual. Mrs. Anthis said her husband went to bed in the highest of spirits and in apparently the best of health. About 5 o'clock in the morning, Anthis was heard by his wife groaning loudly and rushed to him. She telephoned at once for medical assistance. She said her husband expired about three minutes later and was dead before physicians arrived.

Anthis was unusually large and weighed about 272 pounds. Physicians stated he had been subjected before to severe indigestion attacks. A special basket of large meals was necessary to be ordered for the deceased and was due to arrive here at noon.

The body will be sent to El Campo for burial.

Anthis was employed in the city street department and drove a grader.

DAUMERGUE IS FRENCH LEADER

Elected President Over Paul Painleve, 515-309

VERSAILLES, France, June 13.—Gaston Doumergue, president of the senate, was elected president of France by the national congress here today.

Doumergue defeated Paul Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies, 515 to 309.

The new president succeeds M. Millerand, whose resignation was forced by the Left parties following the recent parliamentary elections.

Doumergue had the support of the bloc national (the Poincare coalition) as being the least radical of the candidates put forward by the Left.

'HELL-MARIA' CANDIDATE IN

Lowden Declines Proffer Of Vice Presidency

TICKETS VARIED

Republicans Lose Control As Final Ballot Taken

By FRAZER EDWARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND, June 13.—"We want to put some pep and Hell and Maria in this campaign" yelled a delegate from Nebraska as he placed Charles G. Dawes in nomination for vice president yesterday, and today delegates were still wandering about Cleveland after several hours of just that.

General Dawes was leaving Marietta, Ohio, for Chicago—the convention's choice for running mate with President Coolidge. A republican convention has never before nominated two vice president candidates in a single day, but this one did. It is often said that a republican convention loses such control of itself that the managers are not able to guide it exactly in the path they would have it go. But this one lost all control. It had plenty of speed in its closing hours, but was winding up like a whiplash and throwing vice presidential candidates all over the lake front.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

U.S.S. New Mexico Gun Crew Killed On U.S.S. Mississippi

Navy's Greatest Horror Occurs During Target Practice Off San Pedro; Secret Board of Inquiry Starts Probe for Cause of Disaster; Hospital Ship Becomes Floating Morgue

By HAROLD E. SWISHER
United Press Staff Correspondent

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 13.—Riding calmly at anchor, the United States ship Mississippi rested in its accustomed position in "battleship row" today, giving little evidence of the tragedy aboard her which a few hours before had instantly killed 43 officers and men.

Close by stood the hospital ship, Relief, turned into a morgue to receive the bodies comprising the toll of the navy's greatest peace-time horror, and to treat the burns of the suffering men, many of whom prayed for death to end their agony.

Later today a secret board of inquiry was to convene. Captain Yates Sterling, commanding officer of the U. S. S. New Mexico, will be in charge of the investigation, seeking to determine the cause of the explosion yesterday in the forward turret of the Mississippi while the dreadnaught was in battle practice off San Clemente island, fifty miles at sea.

Two Blasts, Then Death
There were two blasts, each claiming its toll of life. The first was the explosion of TNT compound being packed behind a shell in number 4 gun, as rivalry grew intense over the ocean target field. The second was four hours later, when the dreadnaught was in battle practice off San Clemente island, fifty miles at sea.

Probably the exact cause of the tragedy will never be known. Two of those who surrounded the three dead men, who were killed in the blast, were "uncertainty" what the cause was.

Crack Ship in Division
The U. S. S. Mississippi was the crack vessel of its division. Its guns hold many records, and turret number 2 housed the best of the lot. Now the big circular steel superstructure is a mass of tangled metal, while the gun on the floor.

Twelve miles north of San Clemente island yesterday the Mississippi took up a position near the Tennessee and Idaho for secret target practice. Far in the distance was the California and behind it drifted a huge target at which the other vessels were to fire.

Eighty-four men were in gun turret No. 2. Four of them were stationed at the three guns, while the others were in the handling rooms. Lieutenant Thomas E. Zeilars was in command, while Ensign Marcus Erwin, J. J. Levesque and James McFadden were with him.

Cheered as They Worked
Working with speed and cheerfulness, other as they labored, sailors strapped to the waist, rolled in the huge shells and crammed behind them in the breeches of the guns the sacks of powder.

The breeches of gun number five and six were closed, locked and ready to fire. That of number four still stood open. Four sacks of powder lay on the floor.

Then came the explosion. Someone may have given a premature order to fire. A short-circuit in an electric light cord drawn across the powder bags; a bit of ignited fragment left from the shell fired just before, or a spark from the powder ram—all have been advanced as possible causes of the blast.

A Roar, Then Silence
There was a roar, a blinding blast of flame, a cloud of flame—and then silence.

Outside, members of the crew rushed to the turret. Entrances was impossible. The heat had melted the two small doors until they were a part of the big steel tank.

An acetylene torch was secured and with it a hole was sent into the turret. Lieutenant E. Donald Smith volunteered to be the first to enter. (Turn to Page 2, Column 1.)

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Agree On Ticket
Coolidge and Dawes in the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential nominee of the convention. But indicative of the differences of opinion that prevailed among men who were considered vice presidential timber, the convention managers and the delegates, a half dozen other tickets were announced as possible by folks who should know before the convention.

Are You

ROTARY RIDES DESPITE JINX

Engine 413 Pulls Pt. Arthur
Men Friday the 13th

Leaving on Friday, the 13th, with engine No. 17 pulling the special Katy train which takes them on the first leg of their long journey, Rotarians and their wives from Port Arthur, Orange and Beaumont flew in the face of the jinx from Fort Worth this morning en route to the international convention at Toronto.

The Sabine district delegation left Beaumont at 7 a. m. for Fort Worth early this morning. The delegation was due to be guests of Fort Worth Rotarians at breakfast this morning and until the train was due to leave at 10.

The next stop will be at Detroit where Rotarians from all over the country will be entertained before taking off into Canada. President James E. Day of the Port Arthur club has already preceded the delegation to Toronto. Others from here taking out reservations for the trip are Tom Hughes and wife, Will Adams and wife, Will Hooker and wife, H. F. Banker, wife and daughter.

The convention proper begins in Toronto Monday morning and will continue throughout the week.

HOSPITAL SHIP

(Continued from Page 1.)

Doctors and nurses are kept busy through the hole into the burning, heated interior of the turret. He found it well filled with water. Someone, in the heat and terror of the moment—some hero who will never be known—turned on the water and prevented possible further explosions with even greater damage.

Crawling forward, Lieutenant Smith found twisted, blackened and mangled bodies, but never a sign of life. Not one of the men left in the turret was alive.

With Captain William T. Brotherton in command, the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor.

Doctors Rush to Scene

Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room, where other members of the turret crew lay burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joseph Carleson, Irving Dickerson and Robert Macadin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers, to survive. They owe their lives to the fact that their turret jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the turret carrying the dead and wounded from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A dead sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor, touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the harbor, passing close by the steamer Texas, which then blew black and increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the breakwater, where during the evening it steamed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14-inch guns pointed toward the sea.

"Felt Like a Blaze"

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades.

"The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," Macadin said. "It was red, and red, and just sort of set fire to everything. Even the heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over."

Now Ensign McGee standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head, he was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. If I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Cavender and Dickerson, and we made our way to the bottom deck."

Strict censorship was declared on board the Mississippi when the dreadnought arrived in port and had not been lifted today.

Short leave was denied all members of the crew and all officers were instructed to say nothing about

MODEL HOME PLANS PROGRESS

Plans Are Improved By Architect

C. B. Schoeppl, architect of Houston and San Antonio, was here Thursday on a special trip to personally set in motion the first steps in the construction of the Model Home which is to be erected in Dryden place by a majority of Port Arthur merchants collaborating on the plans.

Schoeppl was enthusiastic over the idea of building a house which was to be the acme of the very best from every representative merchant and person contributing to its erection and furnishing.

"Such a project is a challenge to us all. To me it means I must draw a plan better, different, than any I have ever made. It, the finished product, will be a monument to my work and one which I propose will be nothing short of the best I can produce."

"I take it that the contractor and the merchants who are to furnish the various units of furniture for the Model Home have the same attitude. To put nothing but the leading product, the standard brands, the products which are worthy of the name 'model,' is what should and will go into the house," he said.

Schoeppl left Thursday night for Houston and will there put the finishing touches on the Model Home plans. He will incorporate a few suggestions and changes resulting after his personal inspection here. He plans to come back and confer again with the builders, when the work actually gets under way.

England imports more than 2,000,000,000 foreign eggs every year.

The Oxford dictionary, now nearing completion in England, has taken 43 years in the writing.

Negotiations to secure a wooden ship laid up at Beaumont for the Sea Scout summer camp and training ship planned by Port Arthur Scout officials for the first two weeks in July are being carried on with the Shipyards Merchandise company of Beaumont. It was announced at Scout headquarters today.

Captain Rodrick D. Steele, head of Sea Scouting in Port Arthur, and Captain D. W. Eddy, Scout executive here, will go to Beaumont Saturday to make further inspection of the craft and see if arrangements for securing the bulk can be made. It is planned to locate the training ship for the Sea Scouts camp at the head of Lake Sabine.

The wooden bulk at Beaumont is equipped with auxiliary machinery for running the pumps to hose lines and running water systems. It is said, and Sea Scout officials in Port Arthur expressed the belief that the vessel will meet the needs of the summer camp. Definite word on whether or not the bulk can be gotten and arrangements completed for transferring it to Lake Sabine probably will be given out late Saturday. Scout officials here said today.

With Captain William T. Brotherton in command, the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor.

Doctors Rush to Scene

Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room, where other members of the turret crew lay burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joseph Carleson, Irving Dickerson and Robert Macadin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers, to survive. They owe their lives to the fact that their turret jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the turret carrying the dead and wounded from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A dead sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor, touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the harbor, passing close by the steamer Texas, which then blew black and increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the breakwater, where during the evening it steamed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14-inch guns pointed toward the sea.

"Felt Like a Blaze"

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades.

"The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," Macadin said. "It was red, and red, and just sort of set fire to everything. Even the heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over."

Now Ensign McGee standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head, he was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. If I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Cavender and Dickerson, and we made our way to the bottom deck."

Strict censorship was declared on board the Mississippi when the dreadnought arrived in port and had not been lifted today.

Short leave was denied all members of the crew and all officers were instructed to say nothing about the tragedy.

Three officers are among the dead. They are Lieutenant Thomas Sellers and Ensigns Marcus Erwin and William G. McNeil.

Ensign Levesque, an observer from the U. S. S. New Mexico, had an almost miraculous escape. Standing on the shell deck by the side of Ensign Erwin, he caught sight of the open gun breech as the command to fire was given.

Ensign narrowly escapes. Unhesitatingly he dove 40 feet down the shaft of the endless chain powder bucket. He was cut and bruised, but is still alive. Erwin was killed instantly. Citizens of San Pedro congratulated themselves upon their own escape. The second explosion occurred on the harbor as the turret was revolving. Had it remained in its original position the hang-fire from the left gun which was discharged in the harbor would have gone into the center of the city.

The "Mississippi" was launched in 1917 at Newport News and is a sister ship to the "Idaho" and "New Mexico." The hull and machinery alone on the vessel cost $7,155,000.

Secretary of Navy Wilber appearing before congress recently said that the Mississippi should be modernized including increasing elevation of the guns and additional torpedo protection.

With Captain William T. Brotherton in command, the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor.

Doctors Rush to Scene

Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room, where other members of the turret crew lay burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joseph Carleson, Irving Dickerson and Robert Macadin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers, to survive. They owe their lives to the fact that their turret jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the turret carrying the dead and wounded from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A dead sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor, touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the harbor, passing close by the steamer Texas, which then blew black and increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the breakwater, where during the evening it steamed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14-inch guns pointed toward the sea.

"Felt Like a Blaze"

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades.

"The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," Macadin said. "It was red, and red, and just sort of set fire to everything. Even the heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over."

Now Ensign McGee standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head, he was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. If I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Cavender and Dickerson, and we made our way to the bottom deck."

MODEL HOME PLANS PROGRESS

Plans Are Improved By Architect

C. B. Schoeppl, architect of Houston and San Antonio, was here Thursday on a special trip to personally set in motion the first steps in the construction of the Model Home which is to be erected in Dryden place by a majority of Port Arthur merchants collaborating on the plans.

Schoeppl was enthusiastic over the idea of building a house which was to be the acme of the very best from every representative merchant and person contributing to its erection and furnishing.

"Such a project is a challenge to us all. To me it means I must draw a plan better, different, than any I have ever made. It, the finished product, will be a monument to my work and one which I propose will be nothing short of the best I can produce."

"I take it that the contractor and the merchants who are to furnish the various units of furniture for the Model Home have the same attitude. To put nothing but the leading product, the standard brands, the products which are worthy of the name 'model,' is what should and will go into the house," he said.

Schoeppl left Thursday night for Houston and will there put the finishing touches on the Model Home plans. He will incorporate a few suggestions and changes resulting after his personal inspection here. He plans to come back and confer again with the builders, when the work actually gets under way.

England imports more than 2,000,000,000 foreign eggs every year.

The Oxford dictionary, now nearing completion in England, has taken 43 years in the writing.

Negotiations to secure a wooden ship laid up at Beaumont for the Sea Scout summer camp and training ship planned by Port Arthur Scout officials for the first two weeks in July are being carried on with the Shipyards Merchandise company of Beaumont. It was announced at Scout headquarters today.

Captain Rodrick D. Steele, head of Sea Scouting in Port Arthur, and Captain D. W. Eddy, Scout executive here, will go to Beaumont Saturday to make further inspection of the craft and see if arrangements for securing the bulk can be made. It is planned to locate the training ship for the Sea Scouts camp at the head of Lake Sabine.

The wooden bulk at Beaumont is equipped with auxiliary machinery for running the pumps to hose lines and running water systems. It is said, and Sea Scout officials in Port Arthur expressed the belief that the vessel will meet the needs of the summer camp. Definite word on whether or not the bulk can be gotten and arrangements completed for transferring it to Lake Sabine probably will be given out late Saturday. Scout officials here said today.

With Captain William T. Brotherton in command, the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor.

Doctors Rush to Scene

Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room, where other members of the turret crew lay burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joseph Carleson, Irving Dickerson and Robert Macadin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers, to survive. They owe their lives to the fact that their turret jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the turret carrying the dead and wounded from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A dead sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor, touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the harbor, passing close by the steamer Texas, which then blew black and increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the breakwater, where during the evening it steamed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14-inch guns pointed toward the sea.

"Felt Like a Blaze"

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades.

"The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," Macadin said. "It was red, and red, and just sort of set fire to everything. Even the heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over."

Now Ensign McGee standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head, he was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. If I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Cavender and Dickerson, and we made our way to the bottom deck."

Strict censorship was declared on board the Mississippi when the dreadnought arrived in port and had not been lifted today.

Short leave was denied all members of the crew and all officers were instructed to say nothing about the tragedy.

Three officers are among the dead. They are Lieutenant Thomas Sellers and Ensigns Marcus Erwin and William G. McNeil.

Ensign Levesque, an observer from the U. S. S. New Mexico, had an almost miraculous escape. Standing on the shell deck by the side of Ensign Erwin, he caught sight of the open gun breech as the command to fire was given.

Ensign narrowly escapes. Unhesitatingly he dove 40 feet down the shaft of the endless chain powder bucket. He was cut and bruised, but is still alive. Erwin was killed instantly. Citizens of San Pedro congratulated themselves upon their own escape. The second explosion occurred on the harbor as the turret was revolving. Had it remained in its original position the hang-fire from the left gun which was discharged in the harbor would have gone into the center of the city.

The "Mississippi" was launched in 1917 at Newport News and is a sister ship to the "Idaho" and "New Mexico." The hull and machinery alone on the vessel cost $7,155,000.

Secretary of Navy Wilber appearing before congress recently said that the Mississippi should be modernized including increasing elevation of the guns and additional torpedo protection.

With Captain William T. Brotherton in command, the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor.

Doctors Rush to Scene

Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room, where other members of the turret crew lay burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joseph Carleson, Irving Dickerson and Robert Macadin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers, to survive. They owe their lives to the fact that their turret jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the turret carrying the dead and wounded from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A dead sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor, touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the harbor, passing close by the steamer Texas, which then blew black and increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the breakwater, where during the evening it steamed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14-inch guns pointed toward the sea.

"Felt Like a Blaze"

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades.

"The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," Macadin said. "It was red, and red, and just sort of set fire to everything. Even the heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over."

Now Ensign McGee standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head, he was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. If I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Cavender and Dickerson, and we made our way to the bottom deck."

REFINERY LOCAL NAMES OFFICERS

Semi-Annual Election Results Announced

Re-election of M. H. Harlick as president, H. Gantreaux, first vice-president, return to offices of a number of other officials, and selection of new ones are reported today by officials in the Port Arthur Refinery Workers Local No. 22 who have tabulated the results of the all day election held by the organization Wednesday.

Installation of the officers elected to serve the local for the next six months will be made next Wednesday night at a special meeting of the local. A total of 167 votes were cast in Wednesday's regular semi-annual election, and the officials elected are reported today as follows:

M. H. Harlick, president; H. Gantreaux, first vice president; J. H. Lee, second vice president, succeeded Andy Braho; E. Newbauer, re-elected third vice president; A. H. Clark, recording secretary, succeeded J. G. Currie; A. Evans, labor guard; A. J. Primeaux, outer guard; Henry Gantreaux, A. H. Clark and J. G. Currie, all re-elected trustees; and M. H. Harlick, H. Gantreaux, J. Collins, A. H. Clark, J. L. Toups, and Andy Braho, elected delegates to the Trades and Labor council.

ATHLETIC PARK PLAN BEFORE C.-C. COMMITTEE

The athletic committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping will meet this afternoon at 5:30 in the chamber council room to discuss the proposed formation of a city athletic park from lands to be contributed from the low grounds near the pleasure pier.

It is proposed to use the dirt which is to be accumulated when the canal is dredged two feet deeper soon, to build up the low ground near the pier bridge for the athletic park. George Woodell is chairman of the committee.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

REFINERY LOCAL NAMES OFFICERS

Semi-Annual Election Results Announced

Re-election of M. H. Harlick as president, H. Gantreaux, first vice-president, return to offices of a number of other officials, and selection of new ones are reported today by officials in the Port Arthur Refinery Workers Local No. 22 who have tabulated the results of the all day election held by the organization Wednesday.

Installation of the officers elected to serve the local for the next six months will be made next Wednesday night at a special meeting of the local. A total of 167 votes were cast in Wednesday's regular semi-annual election, and the officials elected are reported today as follows:

M. H. Harlick, president; H. Gantreaux, first vice president; J. H. Lee, second vice president, succeeded Andy Braho; E. Newbauer, re-elected third vice president; A. H. Clark, recording secretary, succeeded J. G. Currie; A. Evans, labor guard; A. J. Primeaux, outer guard; Henry Gantreaux, A. H. Clark and J. G. Currie, all re-elected trustees; and M. H. Harlick, H. Gantreaux, J. Collins, A. H. Clark, J. L. Toups, and Andy Braho, elected delegates to the Trades and Labor council.

ATHLETIC PARK PLAN BEFORE C.-C. COMMITTEE

The athletic committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping will meet this afternoon at 5:30 in the chamber council room to discuss the proposed formation of a city athletic park from lands to be contributed from the low grounds near the pleasure pier.

It is proposed to use the dirt which is to be accumulated when the canal is dredged two feet deeper soon, to build up the low ground near the pier bridge for the athletic park. George Woodell is chairman of the committee.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and bunions with Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause—friction and pressure. Thin, easy to apply, antiseptic, healing. Three sizes. Nothing so quick and sure. At your druggist or shoe dealer.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

"Put one on—the pain is gone"

Now—get relief in one minute from corns, callouses and

NEGRO WOUNDED IN GUN FIGHT

Police Arrest Principals In Procter Street Row

What witnesses said was an argument over women resulted in a gun fight, being fought about 2:30 this morning at Hale's garage, 2307 Procter, with his back filled with buckshot and the left side of his body temporarily paralyzed from the wound, according to city officers.

Witnesses told Chief Corington and Officers Decham and Brown, they said today that King and a negro known as "Teaboy" had been arguing in front of the garage for some minutes before a shooting altercation. King, whose hearing the argument said, was accused by the other negro of beating up the latter's sister.

King is said to have produced a knife and the "Teaboy" is said to have gone into a servant house nearby returned with a shotgun and emptied it in King's back. Officers brought both negroes to the police station. King was sent to his home for treatment.

"Teaboy" was held all night and released this morning. Officers would not state whether any charges would be filed against King's alleged assailant.

The wounded negro is not believed seriously hurt.

Thought Herself a 'Vag' 'Cause I Lost My Man'

Robert Todd Returns Home

Following in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor, Robert Todd, son of Mr. David Todd of 3501 Fifth street, has made a splendid record in the law school of Louisiana State University the past year. He has just returned to Port Arthur from L. S. U.

Young Todd's grandfather was Judge David Todd of Columbia, Mo., and his grandfather, the late Robert H. Todd, was judge of the supreme court of Louisiana. His father, the late David Todd, was a prominent lawyer of North Louisiana and his uncle, Charles A. O'Neill, is at present chief justice of the supreme court of Louisiana.

26 TRUE BILLS ARE RETURNED

58th Grand Jury Makes Its Report

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—The 58th district court grand jury now in session here returned 26 true bills here Thursday afternoon. With the exception of Antonio Garcia, Port Arthur Mexican, charged with murder, no other arrests have been made and the names of the persons in the indictments will not be given out until the arrests are made.

COURT DOCKET
Suits Filed
Mrs. J. H. Henaley vs. Russ Daniel company.
George Scott vs. Kirby Lumber company.
Marriage License
John H. Madden and Miss Lillian Mae McCullar.
Emmett Williams and Miss Beulah West.
Automobile License
Joe Turano, 1340 Houston Ave., Port Arthur; Ford.
J. R. Avant, 100 12th street, Port Arthur; Chevrolet.
Port Arthur Ice company, Port Arthur; Ford.
W. O. Williams, Box 335, Port Arthur; Ford.

FAULKNER HELD IN TYLER, TEXAS
Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—William Faulkner, who was to have been tried for an alleged robbery here about two years ago, was arrested in Tyler Tuesday. He was indicted in April, 1921, charged with the theft of $500 worth of cigarettes. He "skipped" bond and since then federal officers have been looking for him.

FIRE VICTIM'S FUNERAL TODAY

Roxie Anna Byrd Dies Of Injuries

Funeral services for Miss Roxie Anna Byrd, 38, who died Thursday afternoon at 6:18 p. m. in Hotel Dieu, Beaumont, from the effects of burns received last Tuesday when her clothing caught fire, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. M. Harrell, 2329 Third street, Port Arthur. Rev. C. W. Culp, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate, and burial will be made in Greenlawn cemetery.

Funeral bearers selected for the services this afternoon are V. A. Schell, W. A. Singletary, Fred Singletary, J. D. Singletary, H. W. Morgan and Harry Hale.

Belief that Miss Byrd's clothing became ignited when she stepped on a match, causing the flaming sulphur to set fire to her dress, was expressed by relatives here today. Denial was made that an oil stove on which she was cooking exploded, as was first reported. At the time of the accident, about 9 a. m. Tuesday, Miss Byrd was visiting in the home of her father, W. E. Byrd, of Danetta.

H. G. Haller, a business partner with Miss Byrd's father in the West Oil company of Hull, and in the Pullen-Bird Garage and Candy company, at Danetta, was the first to reach Miss Byrd, and he suffered severe burns on his hands and arms as he struggled to tear the flaming clothing from the girl. Before the flames could be extinguished, Miss Byrd had suffered intense burns over her entire body, and attending physicians declared she could not recover.

Surviving Miss Byrd besides her father are three sisters, Mrs. Alice Brown and Mrs. A. M. Harrell, both of Port Arthur, and Mrs. Mittie Mangfield of Home Cove, Kentucky; and two brothers, Harvey Byrd, of Saratoga, and Tom Byrd of Danetta.

REDMEN POSTPONE OFFICERS' NOMINATION

Hull Directs Chorus of Sing- ing Kiddies

Lacking enough of the membership to carry out nominations for officers as scheduled for Thursday night, members of Cherokee Tribe No. 51, Improved Order of Redmen, postponed the feature until next Thursday night when they meet in the Knights of Pythias hall, officials said today.

Regular business was brought before the meeting of the Redmen Thursday night, and after deciding to postpone nomination of officers until next Thursday night, plans for having a full attendance of the membership out at the next meeting were discussed, officials said.

BIG FEATURES IN KLAN SHOW

ASKS $2,500 IN CATTLE WRANGLE

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—A $2,500 cattle wrangle was held in the 58th district court here today by Mrs. J. M. Henaley against the Russ Daniels company. Mrs. Henaley alleged in her suit that cattle had been sold which she used in her dairy business, depriving her of her business.

POOLE SEVERELY
PAINTED PARTNERSHIP
Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—C. E. Poole, United States commissioner recently appointed by Judge W. L. Estes, will sever his connection with the law firm with which he has been associated, Davidson, Lawhon, Gordon and Poole. He will in the future have a separate practice.

DR. BOLTON MAY DECLINE OFFICE

California Quoted As Not Wanting School Job

AUSTIN, June 15.—Declination of the presidency of the University of Texas was expected to be made today by Dr. H. E. Bolton, University of California, who is here in conference with the board of regents. While no official report was announced, word came from an authoritative source that Dr. Bolton has told the regents that he would not accept the presidency of Texas' highest institution of learning. It was developed that Dr. Bolton declined the tender sometime ago, but at the urgent request of the regents he came to Austin for a conference, the regents proposing to have him reconsider.

"HELL-MARIA"

(Continued from Page 1.)

tion seemed to simply swear on Daves as not to miss the night train out of town. If William M. Butler, president Coolidge's campaign manager, Frank Stearns, of Boston and a half dozen other convention managers had been correct in all of the positive tips that were put out here who they intended to nominate, here are the tickets that would have been in the field:

Coolidge and Borah.
Coolidge and Kenyon.
Coolidge and Burton.
Coolidge and Hoover.

Daves' big surprise

Daves was not mentioned in the plans of the party managers and did not have any marked support in hotel lobby discussions among delegates. When the convention met last night, after hearing the refusal of former Gov. Frank Lowden, none but the slightest notice concerning the likely nominees. The Coolidge managers were prepared to test the strength of their favorites through ballots until they picked one strong enough to win and the opposing factions were prepared for the same tactic. Then Daves began to show the greatest strength in the field. There was a stampede for him. The delegates, voted, yelled a bit and began gathering up their hats and coats before the ballot was complete. The blow of having Lowden toss back the nomination with a firm refusal, after being named earlier in the day, apparently took away any enthusiasm for giving another nominee a big send off and scattered handclapping was all that greeted the news that Daves had passed the majority mark.

MARKETS

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 15.—Continuous operations for the rise in various sections of the market took effect on the stock market today. High prices for stocks like General Electric and Kellogg were featured in the industrial list while the general carrier group was mostly in the lead. The market was characterized by the last ten days. Stocks kept up general strength through the hour. Northwestern preferred was an outstanding feature of the carrier group. Great Northern preferred was high at 60 1/2. In main of practically two points. International Paper turned reaction, according to 46 1/2 against a high of 45 1/2 in the previous session. Selling was precipitated by the announcement of Bow Jones and company that the reduction in price of newspaper to 32 1/2 a ton from 37 1/2 by Canadian Mills was probably forcing American manufacturers to make a similar cut. The market closed irregular.

TEXAS COMPANY 38
U. S. Steel 94 1/2
Alcoa 31 1/2, off 1/2
Studebaker 33 1/2, off 1/2
American Woolen 52, off 1/2
Goodyear 24, off 1/2
Sibley 21, off 1/2
General Electric 292, up 1/2
East Iron Pipe 37, up 1/2
Goodyear Tire 41 1/2, up 1/2
Bethlehem Steel 45 1/2, off 1/2
Corn Products 35 1/2
New Haven 21, up 1/2
Santa Fe 24, up 1/2
Rock Island 21, up 1/2
Southern Railway 35, off 1/2
North and Western 125, up 1/2
C. and O. 23 1/2, off 1/2
OPENING PRICES
Stocks opened irregular.
New York Central 102 1/2, off 1/2
Studebaker 33 1/2, off 1/2
New Haven 21, up 1/2
General Electric 292, up 1/2
Western Union 54, up 1/2
American Sugar 32, off 1/2
Texas Company 38, off 1/2
Marland 21, up 1/2
American Can 102 1/2
U. S. Steel 94 1/2, off 1/2
North and Western 125, off 1/2
Southern Railway 35, off 1/2
Southern Pacific 91 1/2
Pennsylvania 122, off 1/2
Studebaker 33 1/2
U. S. Cast Iron Pipe 36, up 1/2

STEAKY FREED OF EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

W. J. Steacy, Former Manager of the Local Branch of the Houston Packing Company Here, Was Freed of Embezzlement Charges by a Jury's Verdict in 58th District Court Yesterday.

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—W. J. Steacy, former manager of the local branch of the Houston Packing company here, was freed of embezzlement charges by a jury's verdict in 58th district court yesterday.

BLOOMER BROWN ON TRIAL AT BEAUMONT
Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—R. H. (Bloomer) Brown of Port Arthur went on trial in 58th district court here this morning on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquor. This is the second time the case will have been tried, since the jury could not agree the first time. Brown had just returned from McFadden's beach and had two quarts of liquor in his car when arrested, officers said. He testified that he was using the liquor for medicinal purposes. Other witnesses testified that they found in his home a bottle of liquor and was not his property. Chief of Police W. W. Covington, Constable H. F. Baker and X. Q. Brandel are witnesses for the state.

PAKED CAR FORGOT CALLED IN COFFERS

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 15.—S. D. Jones, who reported the theft of a Ford roadster on the Port Arthur-Beaumont road Thursday afternoon. The car, had been parked at 5 to the Beaumont Gun Club.

Theft of another automobile was reported, and after an extensive search was found. It developed, however, that the owner of the car had parked his car in one place and instructed officers that he put it in another place. He later remembered that he had parked the car exactly where it was found.

QUITS BACHING, BUYS FIVE OTHERS SUITS
SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 15.—Four local bachelors are wearing new suits which they didn't buy. The new suits were the result of the marriage May 28 of Jerome W. Shields, Jr., and Miss Veranda Fayre. Shields, first to desert the group of five, bought the clothes. The agreement was that the first to be married should buy the other four each a suit.

Postal Inspectors Charge 'Inside Job'

In Mail Robbery

MILWAUKEE, June 15.—Nearly all of the crew of the 70 mail clerks and other of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train robbed near Roundout, Illinois, last night, were taken to the federal building for questioning when the train arrived here today.

Postal inspectors said the whole affair looked like "an inside job."

HAROLD LLOYD MOVIE BRINGS GLASS SALES

PORT WORTH, Texas, June 15.—According to a Main street opinion, the well-known spectacle business every time a Harold Lloyd picture is shown in Port Worth.

DON'T FAIL TO SEE HER
Madam Jewell reveals by Psycho-analysis your other self. Best in Southwest. Office Room 250, Hotel Plaza. 9:30 to 12 a. m. 1:30 to 6:30 p. m. Special 40 p. m. (Colored by appointment).

The Best Floor Coverings are Wool Seamless Rugs

ASK your dealer to show you the famous Tapestry, Velvet, and Axminster Seamless Rugs made by the Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company, the foremost makers of Rugs and Carpets since 1860.

Rugs for every room in pleasing patterns and all sizes, at prices within the reach of every one.

Maximum durability in proportion to cost.

Trade mark stamped on back of every rug.

Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Co.
NEW YORK

LUTHERAN MINISTERS TO USE COLLEGE CHAPEL

The chapel at Port Arthur Business college has been secured for a meeting place for the ministers of the new Lutheran church in Port Arthur, which will hold its first services Sunday, June 22, including Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., and preaching service at 11 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Schultz, pastor of the Texas Lutheran Mission, is to take charge of the church, said today.

The new Lutheran congregation is under the jurisdiction of the Texas synod, Rev. Schultz said.

Wm. Rogers & Son Silverplate.

$14.75 For the Complete Silver Set

An Opportunity

Why Not Take It?

Here we are offering you the opportunity to come to this store, and get a wonderful bargain in a large variety of Silver Sets, at a very low price of $14.75. And in addition to this we offer the extra added inducement of the

Salad Forks Free

It's Wm. Rogers Silverware, with a "NO-TIME-LIMIT" Guarantee. Beautiful in design, the very latest styles and both for the very low price of $14.75

Jacobs & Lipoff
443 Austin Ave.

OUR AIM: TO SERVE FAITHFULLY AND UNFAILINGLY.

J.C. Penney Co.
A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION
475 DEPARTMENT STORES

318 PROCTER PORT ARTHUR

A Beehive of Activity

Helping Folks Prepare for Summer

Here in our stocks you will find a complete assortment of the needed things to complete your wardrobe for summer. With an aggressive chain of 475 retail department stores, buying in one unit, you are continually assured of prices that are lower and values that are difficult to match.

Imported Broadcloths

Men! Get Some of These Fine Shirts

Single ply, Imported English Broadcloth Shirts for dress wear. White and colors. Cut full size to insure correct fit. Full center pleat. Button on sleeve facing.

Choose several of each:

- Neck band style with French cuffs.
- Collar attached style with single button cuffs, also faced pocket.

An Exceptional Offer — Only

$1.98

Try, if you will, to make comparison anywhere of these regular values. This is just another example of your buying ability at this Store.

Three Hosiery Values That Are Real

It will interest you to compare what you have been paying with these decidedly lower prices and better values.

- Men's fine gauge mercerized hosiery, in complete assortment of sizes and wanted colors 25c
- "Foremost," the finest quality of four thread hosiery made anywhere, wonderful for real wear, our price, 3 pair $1.00
- Men's extra heavy weight pure thread silk hose, made the new split sole way, the finest wearing silk hose we know of, at 75c

Men's Summer Suits That Mean Comfort

Here are the best values that we can offer you in good quality tailoring in fabrics that are very desirable from the points of appearance and comfort these warm summer days.

- Men's Genuine Lorraine Seersucker Suits, Prado Corda, Spanish Linens, fully pre-shrunk and the utmost in tailoring embodied in them, our price only $8.50
- Men's Bermuda, Panama, Tropical Worsters, Bonn's and Priestly Mohairs, real values at the little $19.75

Give a look at these values before selecting your summer wardrobe. We shall be very glad to save you money on what you need.

Announcing The One Big Event of the Year

Goldberg's
24th Anniversary Sales

Goldberg's
"WHERE STYLE BEGINS"

24th Anniversary Sales

Begins Wednesday, June 18th

THE twenty-fourth renewal of Goldberg's Anniversary Sale is scheduled for Wednesday morning, June 18th. From one end of the store to the other, every counter, every table, will be overflowing with desirable merchandise, and at prices that will not be duplicated again this year.

Our preparations are about complete. Make your preparations now to benefit by this event.

THE NEWS' SOCIAL AND HOUSEHOLD PAGE

Fashion Decrees A Low Waistline And A Return To Fullness In Skirts

THAT fashions are as changeable as the wind is indicated by the fact that the straight, beltless sheath dress, which was the vogue early this year, is now of favor with milady.

The newest gowns that are shown in the smart shops all show some sort of fullness below the knees and many of them show some semblance of a low waistline.

The tube-like sheath gown proved to be unbecoming to most figures. Instead of concealing curves, it tended to reveal them. In other words, women have proven to themselves that they need waistlines, which brings us to the question of "what is a waistline?"

One would naturally infer that a waistline is the equator line between the undergarment and the hips, but this is not the case. A waistline may be placed at the hips, at the bending point of the body, at the underarms or at the knees. It is Dame Fashion who settles the location of the waistline, not the anatomist.

We began this season with no waistline whatever, with unbroken, straight lines from neck to hem and having found this silhouette unflattering, we return to the waistline that is placed at the hips. The new waistline may be just a seam which suggests the joining point of blouse and skirt, a huge flat bow placed over one hip, or a narrow string belt.

Combined with a low waistline, we have fullness introduced into the skirt which takes us away from the strictly tube silhouette. Skirt fullness is achieved by means of circular side panels, posed over a slender foundation, a full tulle front effect, inverted pleats which are left open from the knees to hem and other decorative means.

The Parisian silhouette of the moment is tight-fitting lines to a point below the knees, with a flaring hemline. Following this mode, three-quarter length coats are introduced, replacing full length ones. These are worn over frocks which have become the full-length frock, but with a fullness at the three-quarter length coat. Some of the more dressy frocks and three-piece suits have coats of five-eighths length, that is, the coats extend within four or five inches from the bottom of the frock. Even evening wraps in Paris seldom extend the full length of the frock this season.

Mrs. Minter Hostess To Bridge Club

Mrs. J. M. Minter graciously entertained the 13th Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1301 Eighth street.

The home was in attractive adornment for the pretty affair, with a profusion of Sinista daisies clustered at vantage points about the room, suggesting a yellow and white theme. The tables were adorned with the chosen flower and the yellow and white theme was featured in all details of the entertainment.

In the games Mrs. L. L. Billeaud received the prize for high score and the honor for low score was awarded to Mrs. Earl Borden. Congratulations fell to Mrs. C. H. Fitz-Gerald. A delicious ice course was served after the games. Players for the afternoon included Mrs. Gilbert Root, Mrs. C. H. Fitz-Gerald, Mrs. C. H. Jones, Mrs. L. L. Billeaud, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. M. P. Folger, Mrs. P. T. Fleming, and Mrs. Jim Minter.

Next week Mrs. C. H. Jones will entertain the club at her home, 2212 Sixth street.

Mrs. Cantrill Declares Politics Does Not Detract From Woman's Charms

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
News Staff Writer

The argument that political life will cause a woman to lose any of her feminine charm is convincingly refuted by Mrs. J. C. Cantrill, national committee woman from Kentucky to the Democratic convention. Although she has been a student of politics for years, and active leader in the suffrage campaign and an organizer during the past two presidential campaigns, she has never sacrificed one of the social graces that have made her one of the most popular hostesses of her state.

And it was probably because of her social talents as well as her political ones that Mrs. Emily Neale, Democratic chairman of the National Democratic Committee, selected her to take charge of all the convention arrangements for the women delegates outside of New York.

"I've never smoked a cigarette or bobbed my hair or worn mannish clothes," she said, "and never will. As long as my husband lived and my daughter was unmarried, I kept house and considered my housekeeping first and my politics second."

"Now I am so situated that I can devote all of my time to my party. But I think it is such a mistake to believe that the busy woman not actively associated with politics are necessarily indifferent to their civic responsibilities."

In her organization work among women, Mrs. Cantrill is constantly surprised at the interest and the intelligence of women in political matters, who are considered just "home women." And the way they are volunteering their services is amazing.

"Of course," she laughed, "I'm just southern enough to believe that there is no place where a woman's influence should be so strong as right in her own home with her own family. I urge all women to take an interest in political matters in order that they may exert the influence they have in a small circle to greater advantage, and have the pleasure that comes from an awakened political consciousness. And I firmly believe that after the coming elections men

Social Calendar

FRIDAY
Batter Club with Mrs. J. M. Foster, 2106 Thirtieth street, 8:30 o'clock.
Bee-kahs meet at the Odd Fellows hall, 8 o'clock.
Royal Neighbors meet at hall in Hartford building 7 o'clock.

SATURDAY
Anything party and picnic supper at Gates beach by Redwing Council, 8 o'clock.

Bible Classes

Enjoy Picnic At Port Neches

More than one hundred and fifty persons attended the picnic at Port Neches park last evening given by the Bible Class of the First Christian church.

The women had been informed beforehand that the men were expecting a delectable chicken supper, and the men were not disappointed when they were called to supper, served picnic style, for the table, heavily laden with tempting "eats," bore large platters of chicken from one end to the other. There was fried chicken, steamed chicken, and baked chicken. Salads, sandwiches, olives, pickles, cakes, fruit, iced tea, and all other delectables necessary for a delightful picnic graced the table.

A huge bonfire lighted the scene, and after supper, when the tables had been cleared, entertaining outdoor games were played. Mrs. A. H. Metz supervised the games.

Before going to the park, the automobiles and trucks, donated for the outing by Johnnie Rizer of the Lone Star Transfer company, paraded the streets of Port Arthur and made the trip to the park via Neches and through Port Neches. The line of automobiles and trucks, early decorated were headed by a large truck, aboard which were members of the choir, who gave yells and sang songs during the trip to the park.

MRS. FOLEY RETURNS TO GOOSE CREEK

Mrs. B. L. Foley has returned to her home in Goose Creek after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hunter of 2220 Thomas boulevard. Her brother, Master James Hunter, accompanied her home to spend his summer vacation in Goose Creek.

REDWING COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

The Redwing Council No. 10, Degree of Perfection, met in regular session Monday evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Mrs. Roy Kellogg, Pocahontas; Mrs. M. Tanner, Wagoner; Mrs. J. Warren, Fort Worth; and Mrs. C. V. Palmer, Wagoner. These officers will take place on June 23.

BATHING PARTY BY REDWING COUNCIL

A bathing party and picnic supper at Gates beach will be given tomorrow evening by the Redwing Council No. 10, degree of Perfection. All members and their friends are cordially invited to participate in the outing.

MISS HEINER ENTERTAINS

The Miss Heiners met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Edna Heiner, 1829 Sixth street, and after a short business session the hostess offered a delectable ice course as a refreshment service.

The members present were Misses Verah Singleton, Iona Singleton, Vera Bell Johnson, Anna Mae Morrison, Nannie Heiner, Pauline Heiner, Vivian Blackman, Mamie Murphy and Edna Heiner.

The club will meet next Wednesday with Miss Anna Mae Morrison at her home, 714 Tenth street, at 8 o'clock.

MISS MASTERS THANKS CITY

Miss Anna Mae Masters, head of the Y. W. C. A. of Beaumont, sent greetings to the Chamber of Commerce this week and expressed her appreciation for the courtesy extended by the city authorities.

After the business session, over which the new president, Mrs. T. C. Lindemann presided, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. J. M. Reagan won first prize in a bean carrying contest and Mrs. W. F. Hunt received the bonny.

Delicious refreshments were offered and enjoyed by Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Mrs. C. L. Lumbler, Mrs. J. M. Reagan, Mrs. Ed Womack, Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Mrs. W. M. Laird, M. J. A. Whitehead, Mrs. G. E. Lin, Mrs. J. A. Ligon, Mrs. W. W. Hunt, Mrs. J. L. Reagan, Mrs. L. W. Umbarger, Miss Mine Dawson and Mrs. T. C. Lindemann.

Young People In Attendance At Assembly

Among the young people from the League of the First M. E. Church, South in attendance at the Epworth League Assembly at Jacksonville are Misses W. M. Freest, Sallie V. Fore, Mary Margaret Ward and Blanche McBride and I. F. Parque.

The assembly is the ninth annual session of the Texas Conference Epworth League, which opened at Alexander College at Jacksonville. The assembly closes tomorrow at noon.

Several hundred young people are in attendance at the Assembly, delegates attending from the 10 districts in the conference, Beaumont, Galveston, Jacksonville, Martin, Marshall, Nacogdoches, Navarro, Texarkana, and Tyler.

The general theme of the Assembly is "The Christian Way of Life." A series of four sermons on this theme are being preached by Rev. W. O. Brown, a member of the Southern Methodist University faculty.

The Assembly is doing regular institute work, having classes in Bible study, Mission study, Epworth League Methods and administrative problems.

Wednesday night was stormy night and the storm of the Beaumont district made a decided hit with the young people.

Officers To Be Chosen at City B. Y. P. U. Meet

The City B. Y. P. U. will meet in monthly session at the First Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock with the president, H. C. Reed, presiding.

The evening will be with the opening of the first Baptist encampment in Southeast Texas the program tonight will be arranged so as to boost the attendance at the encampment, Mr. Reed said.

J. Earle Meade, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church at Beaumont, will deliver an address during the evening. Special vocal and instrumental numbers will be rendered. Mrs. Mary Culp will entertain with piano selection. Miss Golda Hansard will give a saxophone solo and Wright Chenault will give a vocal number.

During the business session officers for the next term of six months will be elected.

All unions are urged by Mr. Reed to be present with a large representation. More than three hundred young people are expected to be in attendance this evening.

MISS HEINER ENTERTAINS

The Miss Heiners met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Edna Heiner, 1829 Sixth street, and after a short business session the hostess offered a delectable ice course as a refreshment service.

The members present were Misses Verah Singleton, Iona Singleton, Vera Bell Johnson, Anna Mae Morrison, Nannie Heiner, Pauline Heiner, Vivian Blackman, Mamie Murphy and Edna Heiner.

The club will meet next Wednesday with Miss Anna Mae Morrison at her home, 714 Tenth street, at 8 o'clock.

MISS MASTERS THANKS CITY

Miss Anna Mae Masters, head of the Y. W. C. A. of Beaumont, sent greetings to the Chamber of Commerce this week and expressed her appreciation for the courtesy extended by the city authorities.

After the business session, over which the new president, Mrs. T. C. Lindemann presided, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. J. M. Reagan won first prize in a bean carrying contest and Mrs. W. F. Hunt received the bonny.

Delicious refreshments were offered and enjoyed by Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Mrs. C. L. Lumbler, Mrs. J. M. Reagan, Mrs. Ed Womack, Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Mrs. W. M. Laird, M. J. A. Whitehead, Mrs. G. E. Lin, Mrs. J. A. Ligon, Mrs. W. W. Hunt, Mrs. J. L. Reagan, Mrs. L. W. Umbarger, Miss Mine Dawson and Mrs. T. C. Lindemann.

BACK NEARLY KILLED HIM

Soon Recovers Health After Taking Dr. Thatcher's Liver And Blood Syrup.

"Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup started me on the road to good health and I am now well and strong," said J. Gee, 1617 Crump St., Fort Worth, Texas. "My stomach was all out of order and I was all the time having trouble with gas and indigestion. Headaches made me miserable and my back would nearly kill me. I had rheumatism in my legs and sometimes would get so dizzy I'd come near falling. My nerves were wrecked and I couldn't half sleep at night. After trying many other preparations without getting anywhere I at last got hold of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup and began to mend right off."

Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by all druggists and if you are not satisfied the purchase price will be refunded.—Adv.

Simplicity Is Rule for June Trousseau

The smartest nightgowns, instead of being fancy and frilly, take a hint from the tailored frocks and follow straight lines and simple effects. Three medallions of white linen, embroidered in pink and edged in lace, form the only trimming on this model with its pressed-in pleats and square neckline.

Here's What to Eat and—

LOSE WEIGHT GAIN WEIGHT

One whole minted orange, 1-2 cup boiled fish and vegetable salad, 1 cup butter radishes, 1 chicken, 1 cup creamed dried beef, 1 small baked potato, 4 tablespoons new carrots, 1 cup shredded cabbage with lemon juice, 4 tablespoons fresh cherries, 1 pint skimmed milk, 2 small pieces crisp rye toast, 1 whole wheat pop-over.

Total calories, 1032. Protein, 281. Fat, 234; carbohydrate, 517. Iron, .0201 gram.

If you have a mint bed this minted orange may give you an idea for other combinations as a change. Enough mint leaves to give flavor, not add a decigram to your weight. Use any recipe, any fruits and vegetables that must be served without sugar or sauces.

Minted Orange

One large orange, 1 tablespoon minted mint leaves. Cut orange in half and with a spoon scoop out the pulp. Scrape out the membrane, leaving a clean shell. Combine fruit and mint and refill shells. It is well to prepare the orange the night before and keep the fruit tightly covered in the ice box ready to fill the shells in the morning.

Total calories, 100. Protein, 6; fat, 3; carbohydrate, 91. Iron .0009 gram.

MR. AND MRS. MINTER VISITING MRS. RODGERS

Mrs. C. W. Rodgers of 1701 Procter street has as her guests this week Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Minter and daughter, Ruth Nell, of Houston.

MRS. HOOPER REPORTED ILL

Mrs. Charles Hooper is seriously ill with typhoid fever at Mary Gates Hospital.

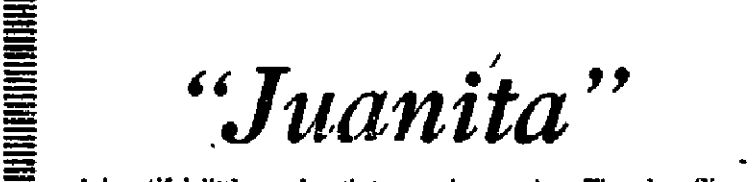

MRS. PHILLIPS TO VISIT IN CITY

Mrs. I. M. Phillips and children of Ashdown, Ark., will arrive in the city tonight for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Kolb of 2010 Sixth street.

CATARRH

of head or throat is usually benefited by the vapors of VICKS VAPORUB

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

"Juanita"

A beautiful little number that came to our store Thursday. Similar to the above illustration. Patent leather with Spanish heel for $7.50

"Jewel" is another patent leather with box heel $6.00

Black satin beautiful cut out flat heel strap $6.00

Ladies' black and brown Cedit hose for $1.69

Keith Shoe Co. "Hosiery Too" 500 Procter Phone 60

ELKS TO GO TO ORANGE SUNDAY

Joint Flag Day Exercises Scheduled

At least 100 members of the Port Arthur Elks lodge and probably 150 other visitors from here are expected to attend the joint flag day exercises, Sunday to be held at Orange under the auspices of the lodges from both cities.

Col. H. H. Dunn in charge of the arrangements committee stated this morning every detail for an all day outing and general program of entertainment and patriotic observances had been arranged. A flag day program will be the main event, which is scheduled to take place either in the auditorium or on the lawn of the Orange High school.

Port Arthurians who will participate in the flag day program will be Miss Wilma Simms, who will give a reading eulogizing the flag, and W. P. Spiegel, who will make an address.

Col. Dunn has arranged with the Texas Company to transport on the Texas Company's boat the "Juliette" the college boys band. This boat will leave the Texas Company's Houston avenue canal office at 8:30.

A baseball game in which the Port Arthur Elks will do battle with the Orange Diamonds is another feature arranged for the day's activities.

That a number of persons will make the trip by automobile is the opinion of Col. Dunn who states he has information the roads are passable from Beaumont to Orange. Those going in cars are asked to take the Mansfield Ferry route. The roads are a bit rough now but are expected to be in fair condition by Sunday.

Col. Dunn asks all who make the trip to have a national flag on their cars.

Scout Troop Carnival Adds to Troop Fund

Although final check-up on the funds taken in at their carnival has not been completed, officials of Boy Scout Troop 6 reported today indications are that the carnival was a complete success from a financial standpoint. Opened Monday night on the grounds of the Knights of Columbus home, Fifth street and Augusta avenue, the carnival staged by the Boy Scouts attracted large crowds the four nights it was operated by the scouts, officials said.

Funds raised by the carnival will be used towards erecting a hut for the Boy Scouts of Troop 6.

The apple blossom is the most attractive fruit blossom for photographic purposes.

In Zululand the atmosphere is so clear that objects can be seen by starlight at a distance of seven miles.

Something BIG Every Day in June at The Hodges Co. Inc.

—For Saturday

These daily specials are taking the day. Values never before offered you are here and with these inducements—Saturday will be another big day.

India Linen Reduced

A very opportune sale of India Linen. It's on sale tomorrow in all widths and all prices. It's ideal for many uses, and now prices are very attractive.

27 inch India Linen, regular	17c
25c quality for	24c
27 inch India Linen, regular	17c
33c quality for	17c
30 inch India Linen, regular	19c
25c quality for	29c
20 inch India Linen, regular	19c
25c quality for	24c
32 inch India Linen, regular	32c
30c quality for	19c
32 inch India Linen, regular	24c
35c quality for	32c
36 inch India Linen, regular	19c
48 and 50c quality for 40 inch India Linen, regular 20c quality for

Pajama Checks Reduced

Get enough of this pajama check cloth for months to come at this wonderfully low price. It's regular 36 inches wide, 39c quality, on special for Saturday for yard $24c

There will be no telephone, no c. o. d.'s or no charges on these specials. This is necessary on account of the very low prices.

The Hodges Company, Inc.

Where the Promise is Performed

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO JOHN ALDEN PRES. COTT

MON AMI:
It is a long time since you have seen those French words at the top of a letter. Is it not? Or is it that having been used to seeing them very often in the long ago you have become someone for them, and so you have gotten another little French girl to write you long letters filled with love. But no, I am sure she is not French, for the reason I am writing to you, the reason I know she is not from my land is that a friend of mine who came to the other day to tell me he had seen you very often dining with a beautiful, vivacious woman with hair of vivid red. French women, you know, rarely have red hair. Indeed, my friend said that she looked more like an Irish woman, that she had the Celtic vivacity of one.

Now you will be laughing at me, I know, but mon ami Jacques, I am writing to ask you not to do it. Don't make her beautiful wife of yours unhappy. Why, don't you know haven't you found out yet, that she is the loveliest woman either you or I have ever known? Don't make her unhappy. And please don't write me that you could not make her unhappy because you are so fond of her, because once upon a time you told me that you were fonder of me than of any woman in the world, and because of you, soon after I was the unhappy woman in all the world.

Jacques, do you know what that wife of yours did? She turned this whole world over for me from sudden gray into soft gold. Although she asked me the greatest sacrifice I was capable of giving, I did make that sacrifice—I gave her my boy, my own boy, the boy for whom I only went through hell, that hell that comes to all women when they give birth to a life, but for whom I starved and for whom my soul travelled.

When I came back east last spring I had made up my mind that in some way I should have that child back. I knew I had no legal right to him, but I fully expected that rather than have a scandal you would give him to me. If it had not been for your wife, Jacques, I would have done this, but she was so sweet to me, while all the while ignoring the fact which she knew perfectly well, that I was the baby's mother, she gave me a chance to be alone with him, to hold his face to my breast, to let his little face struggle down in my neck. She made all those cattish women in the town where you and I had been talked over so unkindly, be nice to me. For the first time I knew what it meant to have a woman treat me as she herself would like to be treated; for women, my dear Jacques,

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, the personnel including Mrs. L. A. Glicker, Mrs. O. M. Briley Mrs. C. H. Gunthorpe, Jr., Mrs. H. K. Har-kins, Mrs. J. Ellender, Mrs. J. R. Nevius, Mrs. J. T. McCalliff, Mrs. Earl Borden, Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Miss Leona Latimer, Mrs. H. A. James, and Miss Addie Dismukes.

Needlework gave after luncheon diversion.

The Crawford home in Model Addition was attractively adorned for the gracious hospitality, with daisies and sweet peas giving floral charm to the rooms given over to the hospitality. The dainty blossoms formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon board and the yellow and white scheme was reflected in all accessories for the luncheon.

Fascinating New Dishes Are Revealed in Cooking Secrets of the Russian Court

BORSTCH BETTER THAN IT SOUNDS

And Sour Stichee Soup Is Delicious Dish

The Court of the Russian czars had for centuries been known for its wonderful banquets. Strange exotic dishes of almost magic flavor were served which the guests could delight in but never understand. The recipes were secret handed down in the royal kitchens but never revealed outside the inner circle.

But with the revolution and the flight of the noble families from Russia, many mysteries were disclosed and among them some of the recipes for the remarkable Russian dishes. Of all the palaces, the house of Madame Dragomir, wife of the governor general of Kiev, was one most famed for its cuisine. This lady, from her many years as hostess, gathered and finally made public a collection of recipes.

Princess Alexander Gagarine, whose charming personality is known and admired in the international society of New York, Paris and London, has revealed to the American housewife for the first time the culinary secrets which the world's greatest chefs have been for years trying to discover.

The real secret of Russian cooking is that Russia is the land where East meets West—and as a result the Russian dishes are fascinating combinations of the best in European and Oriental cooking.

Princess Gagarine's recipes do not call for unusual ingredients or equipment, although some of the methods are not exactly like those which we are accustomed. Many of the dishes require long cooking or setting aside for long periods.

The soup recipes given here are sufficient for six persons.

Plain Bouillon
4 lbs. beef 1 leek
1-2 cup butter 1 turnip
1 carrot 1 onion

Wash beef, cut into pieces, put into saucepan, salt, and pour over four quarts water. Boil and skim. Take out meat, wash in warm water, put into another saucepan and strain through a fine cloth. Fry celery, carrot, leek, turnip and onion cut into small pieces in one-half cup of butter. When slightly browned add to bouillon, and simmer for four hours. Put in salt and vegetables. Before serving strain stock a second time.

Borscht

Bouillon 2 carrots
2 onions 2 stalks celery
1 leek 10 potatoes
2 cups vinegar 2 parsnips
1 cup oil (keep 1 cup leaves spoon until 3 dry laurel leaves the last)

2 tablespoons salt and butter pepper
1-2 tablespoons 1-2 lb. sausages flour if desired

For the mashed potatoes
6 large potatoes 1 dessert spoon butter grated bread
1 tablespoon 1-4 lb. salt pork butter 1-4 lb. salt pork

1-2 teaspoon salt
Prepare bouillon as above. Take beetroots (dark red) chopped into chips, and put into bowl of cold water and vinegar in equal measures.

Put into saucepan butter, onions, carrots, leeks, and a half of two of parsley, chopped up into long thin strips. Fry slightly, adding one and one-half tablespoons flour. Meanwhile remove beetroot from water, drain and dry well, add to vegetables cooking in saucepan, and pour over bouillon.
Cook until vegetables are tender.

stirring from time to time. The bouillon should just cover the vegetables. When vegetables are well cooked, pour in the remaining bouillon. Cut the meat in thick slices and add to borscht. Before serving grate two raw beetroots, put pulp into a small clean cloth and squeeze juice into borscht, making it wine color. Salt and pepper to taste, put in dry laurel leaves, add one teaspoonful boiled vinegar, let borscht boil once more, and it is ready for use.

Small sausages added to borscht are very good. Cook several small sausages five minutes in salt water, cut into thick slices, and drop into borscht just before pouring into the tureen. Very cold sour cream may be served in a sauce boat, and about one tablespoon added to the borscht when in the plates.

Instead of the regulation pattee it is usual to serve with this borscht mashed potatoes, which are eaten at the same time from small separate plates. To make this pattee take the potatoes, boil (or steam) them and pass through a sieve. Add salt and butter, stir well, and put into a buttered baking dish. Put butter on a well-smoothed top, sprinkle lightly with grated bread crumbs, and bake in oven. When top is browned, melt salt pork cut in small pieces in a small saucepan and pour over baked potatoes. Serve very hot.

Sour Stichee
(The most popular soup in Russia)
4 lbs. beef 2 tablespoons
1 carrot butter
1 stalk celery 2 tablespoons
1 leek flour
1 onion 1 tablespoon
2 dry laurel salt
2 lb. cabbage 1-2 tablespoon pepper
5 potatoes

Cut meat into small pieces, clean, salt and put into saucepan with four quarts water. When water boils remove scum, add carrot, celery, leek and onion slightly browned in butter. Put saucepan on slow fire. Into another saucepan put butter, onions chopped fine, and brown slightly on fire. Add flour, cabbage, well washed and drained, and stew for one hour. Take out meat from soup, put into saucepan with cabbage, and pour in bouillon, straining through a cloth.

Golubitzky

1 large cabbage 3 tablespoons
1 lb. beef butter
1-2 onion 1-4 lb. rice
1-2 tomato sauce 2 cups bouillon
pepper and salt

Boil the large sound cabbage leaves in a saucepan. Chop fine one pound beef from the rump, salt and fry in two an one-half tablespoons butter. Put on wooden board and chop

Saturday Specials

Mrs. Barnes' Home-Made Cakes and Pies

As the demand was greater last Saturday for Angel Food Cakes than we could supply will again offer:

Regular 50c Angel Food Cakes	35c
Special Orange Cakes	25c
Regular 75c Lady Baltimore	60c
Regular 60c Chocolate Coconut and Caramel	40c
All $1.00 Cakes	90c
Devil's Food and Spice Cakes	25c
Special Cherry Pie	25c
Apple, Peach, Raisin Pies	20c
Lemon, Pure Apple, Coconut, Meringue Pies	25c

MRS. BARNES' BAKERY
635 Fifth St. Phone 607

It's Easy to Call Up Our Dealer

when visitors unexpectedly arrive and you are at a loss as to what to offer them as a refreshment. Just phone for some of our matchless ice cream and rest easy. They'll send the cream promptly and you can entertain your guests with the finest refreshment on earth. There is a dealer near you.

Fillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

For the stuffing: Melt one-quarter pound butter in saucepan, add chopped onions and fry until onions are colored. Pour bouillon over some grat, ed bread crumbs, mix with mushrooms previously chopped fine and fried in butter, add sour cream, grated cheese and the onions.

Boil rice, take out on enamelware skimmer, pour over cold water, and mix rice with meat, adding salt and pepper. Put about one dessert spoon of mixture on each cabbage leaf. Fold leaf in the shape of a thick, short smudge, tucking in the sides that stick out. Put into saucepan, pour over enough bouillon to cover, and stew until quite tender. Take out, letting all liquid drain away, lay side by side in deep dish, and pour over tomato sauce.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Clean a piece of the undercut (beef), remove veins, trim sides, salt, and tie with fine string. Roast until done; then take out, let cool, and cut into slices, leaving one end whole. Take some of the following prepared stuffing, butter every side of beef and put back together with unbuttoned pieces, tie all together, and cook a little longer. Take out beef, put on dish (warmed), reduce gravy that remains, and pour on dish with beef. The meat may be surrounded with fried potatoes.

Flillet a La Maitre
6 lbs. beef 1-2 cup sour
1-4 lb. butter cream
18 mushrooms 1-8 lb. grated
2 cups bouillon cheese
1 cup grated salt

Texas Man Back From Orient, Finds Japanese Living in Squalid Filth

NATION'S WAR POWER SMALL

Warns Against Taking Jap Too Seriously

AUSTIN, Texas, June 12.—"Recent Japanese demonstrations in Tokyo, protesting against the action of the United States congress in enacting a law excluding Japanese from this country should not be taken too seriously by Americans," suggested W. D. Hornaday of Austin, who has just returned from a year's stay in the Orient and Hawaiian Islands.

"The masses of Japanese are living in filth, poverty and ignorance and know nothing and care less about what the United States has done or may do in the matter of keeping them out of this country," he said. In such a city as Tokyo it is easy to arouse the mob spirit on almost any question and it is done frequently when only domestic matters are involved. The zipping element of Japan must know that the United States was simply justified, from economic and racial considerations, in putting up the bars against their nationals. Japan itself excludes the Chinese and no foreigner can own land in that country. For twenty years or more Australia has enforced exclusion regulations, by means of the literacy test, against the Japanese and I understand the same is true as to South Africa, still, strange to say, Japan, so far as I know never makes any protest to Great Britain against such action of these colonies.

Not First Class Power

"Except in her navy Japan has nothing to qualify her classification as a first class power. Many well informed people think the efficiency of that country's navy is greatly overrated in the eyes of the world. Economically Japan was in a deplorable condition before the disastrous earthquake and her industrial and business interests are now facing a crisis. The country is largely dependent upon foreign trade for prosperity at home, and during the last two years much of this trade has for various reasons been lost to her. A deluge of bank and business failures last year and business embarrassments are still taking place with much frequency. Japan is the greatest present danger to the world. Even the so-called beauty of the islands are not what they are pictured. The winter and summer climates are miserable and almost undesirable.

Says China Better

Mr. Hornaday described China and the Chinese in a favorable light. He asserted that despite the lack of a real central government of China and the general unsettled conditions, due to revolution and banditry, business everywhere was going on about as usual when he was there. The Chinese are a great and likeable people, he declared. With thousands of years of history behind them the Chinese view with complacency the present period of political chaos. They take the view that everything will be righted in time. What are a few years of trouble in the thousands of years that make up the life of the nation? So, the average Chinese smiles and goes on about his business. They are worried more about the eternal mixing in of their affairs by Americans and other foreigners than about their own domestic difficulties.

Mr. Hornaday spent the winter and spring in Honolulu. He was joined there by his family last January and they returned with him to Austin.

"The Hawaiian Islands are very properly called the Paradise of the Pacific," he said.

Lions Ladies' Night Program Snappy One

Mistery hangs over the ladies' night program to be put on by the Lions club at the Plaza hotel tonight, starting at 7:30. The entertainment will not be formal—anything but formal, but it will take in some wide ground over the club membership.

"It's going to be a joy night," says L. J. Burns, who will maintain the honors of presiding over the gathering. "We have invited all the girls on the basketball team at Port Arthur college and altogether I think we'll have about 1000 attending."

An orchestra will be on hand to furnish music, and a number of solos will be given.

FOR FRIDAY SERVE SKINNERS' SPAGHETTI

POULTRY

Fat Hens per pound 25c
Spring Fryers per pound 42c

Dressed and Delivered Free

Edward Pessarra, Jr.

1825 Fifth St. Phone 2224-J

Hortick's
Safe Milk
For Infants, Invalids, Children, The Aged
With Milk, Malted Grain etc. in powder form, makes The Food-Drink for All Ages. Cereals—No Cooking. A Light Lunch always at hand. Also in Tins. Sold at all Grocers.

C.C. Membership Not Compulsory for PMBL

The membership meeting and drive to be held by the Young Men's Business League at the roof garden of the First Methodist church Friday night, June 20, does not mean the Y.M.B.L. is breaking off from the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping. This was emphasized today by members and officials of both bodies in discussing the proposed constitutional changes to be submitted June 20, the night of the banquet.

It is pointed out that one of the changes in the constitution if passed will allow a person to join the Y.M.B.L. whether a member of the Chamber of Commerce or not. Under the present constitution Y. M. B. L. membership is based upon first affiliation with the chamber.

"We have no fear that a man who joins the Y.M.B.L. and becomes an active member will ever fall to be a chamber hooster when he gets older," the proposed change in the constitution just gives the Y.M.B.L. more membership latitude and does not in any manner abridge the close connection we have in the past and propose in the future to always have with the chamber," President T. Lyle said, in discussing the coming drive.

Water is termed "warm" at 25 degrees Fahrenheit, "tepid" at 57 degrees, and "hot" at 105 degrees.

The word "pajamas" comes from the Hindustani "pajama," meaning "leg clothing."

BOOSTER BAND AT CHRISTIAN

Players to Give Sacred Concert at Church

Sunday night the Port Arthur Booster band will render a sacred concert at the First Christian church beginning at 7:30 o'clock. T. H. Stanley is director of the band and several delightful musical selections are promised on this occasion.

Extra fans are being installed this week at the First Christian church and in conjunction with the four cell-

MEZARD
ENDS THE QUEST FOR THE BEST

Folks who cover a lot of ground find a heap of energy and goodness in Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

To get that flavor, say the name in full—"Kellogg's Corn Flakes."

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
Your usual weekly shopper sustains Kellogg's future.

ANDRUS-PARK STORES

Phone 82. We deliver any amount. Best of quality and service, our motto.

10 lb Sugar Special Price
No. 1 Desert	14c
Peaches	18c
No. 1 Del Monte	18c
Apricots	18c
Milk	5c and 10c
at	95c
1 gal pure country syrup	50c
1-2 gal pure country syrup	50c

MEAT MARKET

Veal Stew	8c
Meat	15c
Veal	12 1/2c
Chops	15c
Veal Chuck	20c
Roast	33c
H. B.	15c
Meat	20c
Pure Pork	20c
Pan Sausage	33c
1 lb Krey	33c
Box Bacon	33c

E. H. WHEELER, Mgr.

WHOOPEE!

Never before were prices so low as they are Saturday

New Potatoes Large size, peck	38c
California Lemons Per Dozen	17c
Kentucky Wonder Beans crisp and fresh, 2 lbs	15c
Tomatoes, average 5 pound basket for	42c

A. JAMAIL Let the People Eat ing fans already in use, the auditorium will be one of the coolest places in the city Sunday night. Rev. M. H. Velderman, pastor, said this morning.

Following the concert and the song service, an unusual sermon will be delivered by the pastor on "The Man Who Said 'I'm From Missouri'." Rev.

Don't Fail to Have Dairy Maid Butter In Your Home

Port Arthur's Miss Dairy Maid is calling on Port Arthur housewives and giving away free to the first four called on with Dairy Maid Butter in their home—an order for another pound to their grocer. So if you want to get a pound free order Dairy Maid tomorrow—you might be one of the lucky ones.

ANDERSON & HILLMAN
Distributors

MONEY SAVING SPECIALS

$1.00 Cash Orders Delivered, Charge Orders Any Amount
2 lb. Cal. Pink Beans	15c
5 Bottles Assorted Pure Burnett's Extract	15c
30c box Dehydrated Prunes Loganberries, Snap Beans and Spinach	19c
45c Jar Sliced Sour Pickles, real good, for	19c
50c Jar Sliced Sweet Pickles, real good, for	23c
5 String Painted Handle, regular $1.00 Broom	61c

For Less Than Real Value

6 lb. net can Supreme Corned Beef 48c
6 lb net Can Supreme Roast Beef 48c

This Meat is very choice, tender meat, the highest grade put up in cans, only costs you 8c per pound, and will keep in your ice box over a week. Unconditionally guaranteed to please you.

Peek 15 pounds Net New Red Potatoes	34c
Lowest prices in town on following: Lettuce, Celery, Rhubarb, Egg Plants, Sweet Peppers, Carrots, Beets, Turnips, Cabbage, Sweet Potato, Cucu, Snap Beans, Green Black-Eyed Peas, Corn, and anything else on the market.
1-2 Gallon Bottle New Crop Fine Grape Juice	$1.00

Extra Low Priced Soap Deal
5 Clairolite, extra large bars, Yellow Soap	40c
3 Gold Dust	15c
2 Sunny Monday, white soap	15c
2 Fairy Toilet Soap	15c
Total value 86c
ALL FOR	48c

5 lb Basket Extra Fancy Large Port Arthur grown Fresh Tomatoes	38c
--	-----

EAT AND ENJOY
If you can beat our market for Cleanliness—Quality—Service—Price We certainly would be surprised

Veal Shoulder Roast, trimmed, per pound	15c
Veal Chuck Roast, trimmed, per lb	12 1/2c
Veal Chops, per lb	15c
3 lb. Veal Stew for	25c
Veal Rump Roast, per lb	20c
Pork Shoulder Roast, per lb	15c
Pork Loin Roast, per lb	25c
Pork Chops, per lb	25c
8 to 10 lb. Sugar Cured Breakfast Bacon, whole Strip per pound	23c
Try a strip of this Bacon, none better, at 50c per pound.
8 to 10 lb. Regular Fancy Hams, per lb	22c
4 to 6 lb. Boston Butts, per lb	23c
8 to 10 lb Picnic Hams, per lb	15c
1 lb Sliced Highest Grade Breakfast Bacon, it will make your mouth water to look at it	50c

PLETTMAN'S

Where Your Credit Is Good, If Your Rep Is Good
606 Houston Ave. Phone 1693-1694-2991

You Can't Fool Texas Housewives

They have learned many important facts about baking powder. These facts have cost them real money in the form of labor that was wasted because bakings made with an inferior leavener were ruined—because expensive ingredients used in the bakings were spoiled.

They have found by actual experience that is most dependable and economical.

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

For thirty-five years Calumet has been serving the housewives of the nation—making it easy to bake and serve pure, sweet and always wholesome foods.

Years ago when Calumet was first offered to the ladies of Texas they were quick to grasp the advantage of its more than usual leavening strength.

Don't experiment—don't change from Calumet to some other brand—it will only add to the cost of your bakings and may mean absolute failure on bake day.

EVERY INGREDIENT USED OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY U. S. FOOD AUTHORITIES.

Sales 2 1/2 Times Those of Any Other Brand

Out at Suttle's

MEAT DEPARTMENT

BILL SUTTLE, General Manager

A. S. LINSCOME Manager Market

A. W. WILKENS Formerly of Andrus-Park

We will be pleased in serving you with the very best in beef, veal and genuine spring lamb; also calf livers, sweet breads, pork tenders and beef tenders or any kind of meat that will make a dinner complete.

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

A Complete Line of Swifts Products at All Times

Swift Premium Hams, per lb Whole or half.	25c
Swift Premium Bacon, by the strip, per lb. Weight 4 to 9 pounds.	29c
1 lb box Swift Sliced Bacon	37c

Swift's Empire Picnic Hams, per lb	15c
Chuck Roast, per lb	15c
1 lb Brookfield Butter	39c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

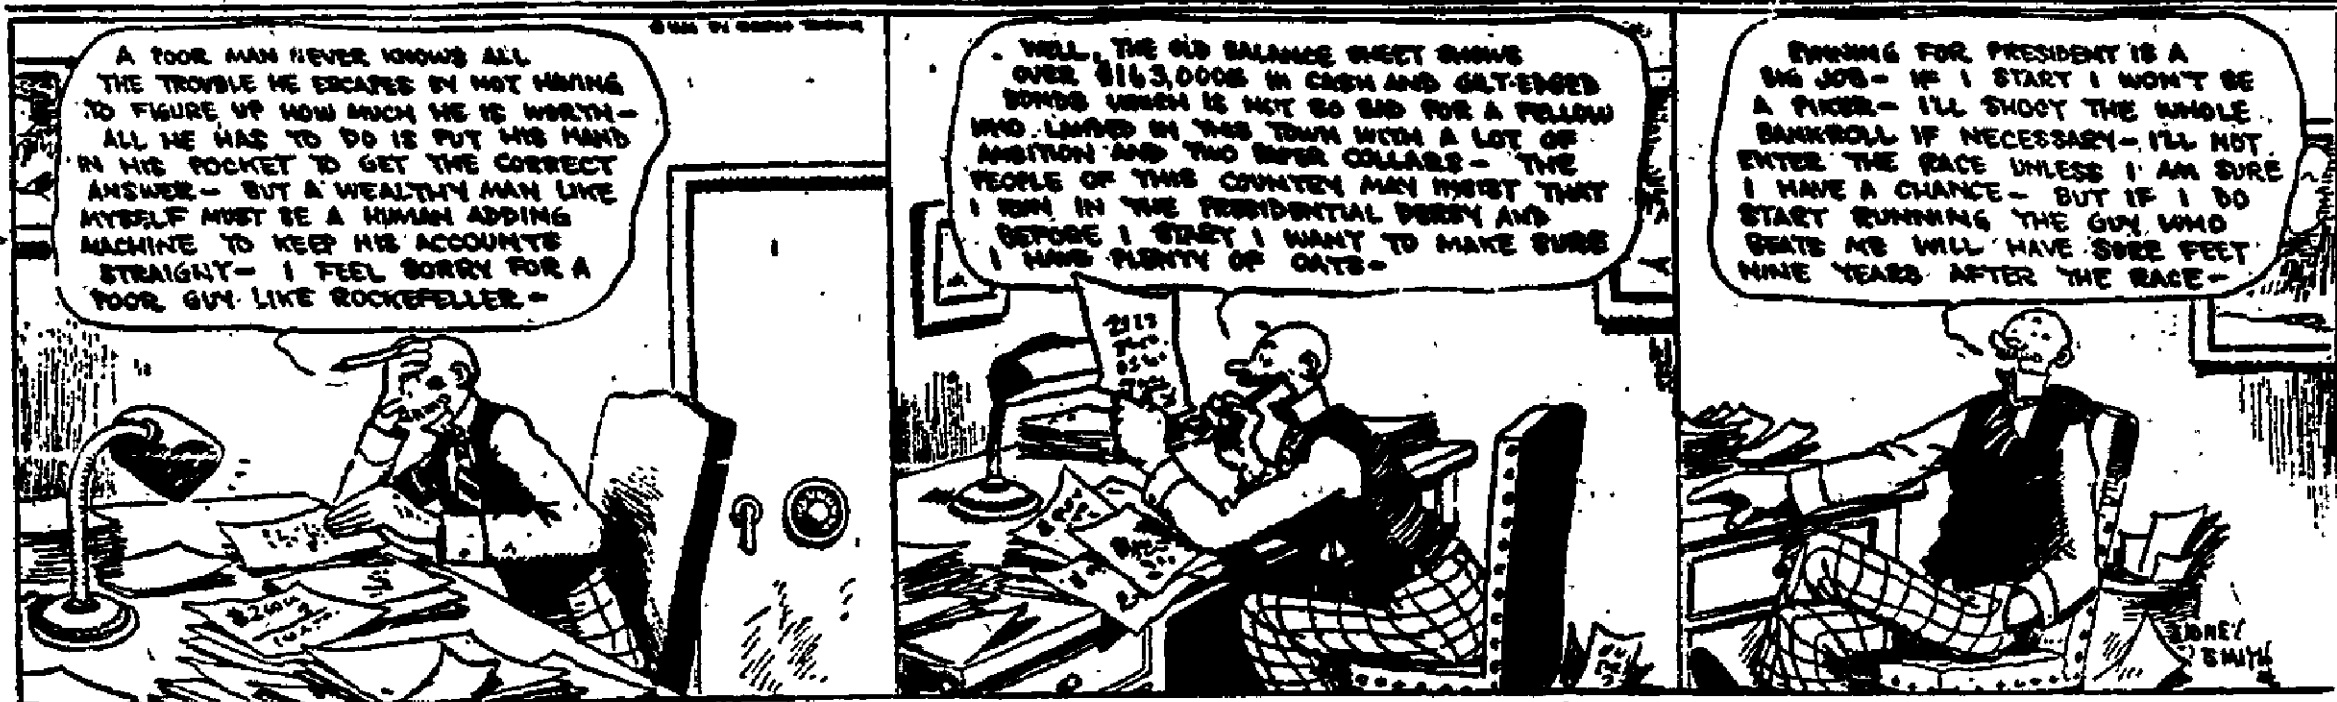

10 lb Imperial granulated sugar	70c
No. 2 1-2 can Ainsley's Fruit Salad	35c
4 lb Swift Jewel Lard	62c
8 lb Swift Silver Leaf Lard	$1.29
8 lb Swift Jewel Lard	$1.18
4 lb Swift Silver Leaf Lard	67c

Suttle's Grocery & Market

Procter and Galveston FREE DELIVERY

Phones 1600 and 585

THE GUMPS—SHOOT IT ALL

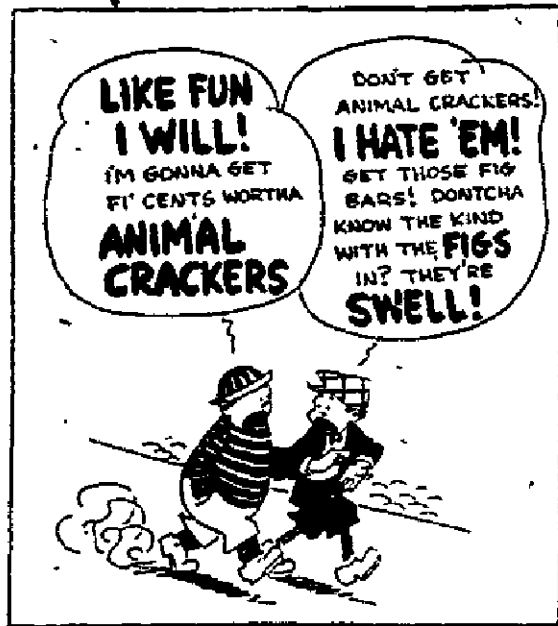

REG'LAR FELLERS

Well Jimmy Warned Him

By GENE BYRNES

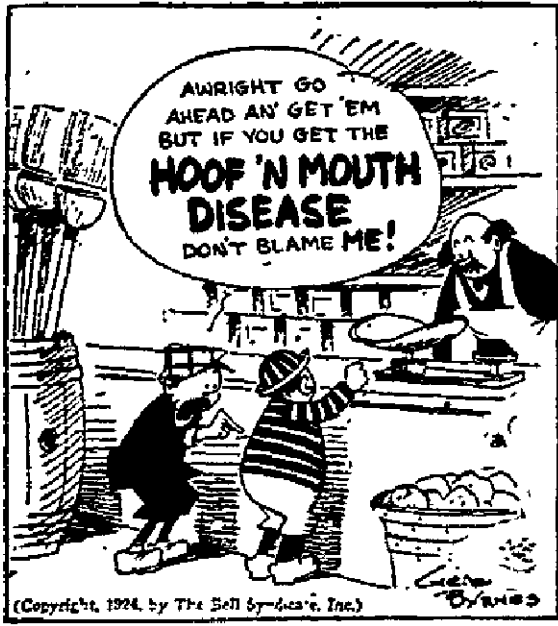

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Can't Put Anything Over on Him

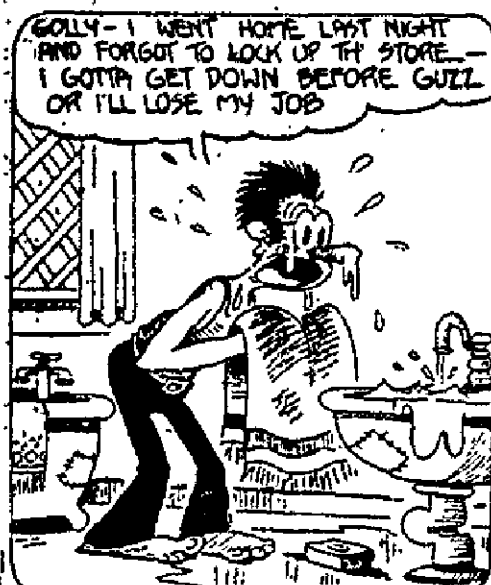

By BLOSSER

SALESMAN SAM

Saved

By SWAN

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Where are your tickets?" asked the titmouse as Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, hopped on his back.

"Here they are," said Nick, reaching into his pocket.

The titmouse put on his spectacles and looked at them by the light of the moon. Each ticket said "One round trip to Holland; There and back."

He punched a hole in each one with his sharp little beak and stuffed them into his pocket.

"All aboard! Ding, ding!" he cried, and flew off in a hurry.

Away they went over tree tops and fields and hills and houses until they came to the sea.

Then they flew over the sea toward the sun-rise and then they came to Holland.

The titmouse lighted on a red roof with a big chimney. "It's daylight here but it's night at home," he explained. "Now have a good time, all of you. I'll be back at half past ten to take you back to the magic garden. Be here promptly and please don't keep me waiting."

"We won't," promised the travelers.

Away flew the titmouse.

"How do you do," said a new voice.

And there stood a tall stork beside a great nest, right on the roof beside them.

"How do you do?" said Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up.

"Pretty well," said the stork. "Did you come from Africa, too?"

"Yes," answered the little garden fairy. "We came from the magic garden, though, and that's just as good. The tulips there are wonderful."

"Pooh," said the stork sharply out of his sharp bill. "Just look over the edge of the roof there and you'll see what tulips really are."

So all three of them ran and looked. "That's nothing!" called back Johnny Jump Up. "We have that many at home."

For he wouldn't let on that they were any finer than the tulips at home.

"See," said the stork. "Some folk are hard to convince. If you jump on my nose, I'll take you around and show you a thing or two."

But no sooner were they all seated on Mr. Stork's long bill, than he went "Zchoo! school school!"

And away shot the three little people like beans out of a bean shooter. For the twins were as tick as the little fairy himself, with their magic shoes on.

Mr. Stork flapped his wing and flew after them. "Oh, I beg your pardon," he said. "But you see you tickled my nose so I just had to sneeze. Now hop on again and I'll be more careful. I'll show you all the sights of Holland."

Soon they were all sitting on Mister Stork's nose again. And he flew first to a place where tulips were growing—such a large field of them that no matter where you looked, there were tulips.

"How lovely!" cried Nancy. "It looks as though a rainbow had fallen from the sky and broken to pieces."

"Yes, doesn't it?" agreed the stork. "Holland supplies the world with tulips. Even roots in your garden at home came from here, in the first place."

"And now?" said the stork. "We'll go to another place."

(To Be Continued.)

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

HOW REIR WON HELGA

Frags was a goddess of love after marriage, but there was another goddess who helped lovers. Her name was Freya.

Frags often helped man and maid to come together. One of the Norse stories I like best is about two lovers who were saved from the sea. This is how the story goes:

There once lived a winsome lass named Helga. She was the daughter of a great old warrior, the king's chief soldier.

Reir, son of Thorhild the Redbeard, fought against Helga's father. Losing the battle, he was driven to a lonely island far out in the sea.

It happened that the young noble was in love with Helga; but what chance did he have when her father was his enemy?

There was just one chance; to steal her away.

In a frail boat, Reir set out for the shores where Helga lived. She happened to be strolling on the beach when he landed.

Beholding her hero, she wept and said in a sobbing voice:

"My father will not let me marry you. He is planning to make me wed a rich noble whom I do not like. But remember, I shall love you always."

"Oh, Helga!" he cried, "a lonely life lies beyond the foaming sea. Bold rovers know it is a safe retreat. Be thou mine and live with me."

The maiden trembled. She wanted to go, but feared the anger of her father.

"No, no," he said. "I must not go." Reir, in the agony of grief, sank on his knee and begged her to come with him.

Helga could not bear the sorrow of her lover. Stepping toward his little boat, she cried:

"Where thou rovest, my beloved, is alone my home, my land."

Her father gave chase, but could not catch them. Out in the stormy sea, they were tossed about and it looked as though they would be drowned. Then came Freya to their rescue. She took them to her palace in heaven, where they lived in peace and joy.

(Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

Color Cut-Outs

Here Comes the Bride

Betty Cut-Outs felt every bride's importance as the bride, and no wonder! For she had on the prettiest, daintiest old-fashioned dress made especially for the wedding, and she was such a sweet looking flower girl that every one watched her almost as much as they did the bride.

Betty walked slowly down the aisle of the church, spreading around pink rose petals, while the organ played.

And then up came Cousin Alice, looking like an angel, all in white, and the minister said some things Betty couldn't hear, and then it was all over, and every one was kissing the bride and crying and laughing all at once.

"I do think weddings are the nicest things," sighed Betty, as she and Billy started home on the train that evening.

"There's a lot of fun," answered Billy, "but they had good cake!"

Betty wears a pale pink dress and hat with blue flowers and white ruffles. She carries a basket of pink roses.

(Copyright, 1924, Associated Editors, Inc.)

In New York

NEW YORK, June 13.—In one of Broadway's rollicking musical shows, a pretty girl with an appealing voice and alluring figure scampers about to the enjoyment of packed houses.

After the theater she rushes to one of the intimate supper clubs and lingers into the dim hours of the morning adds to the merriment of those "making the rounds."

She has a happy smile and a helping hand for every one.

Yet she has more than her share of sorrow.

Her husband, who a year ago was her partner in big musical productions, is in a Chicago sanitarium, suffering with a nervous complaint.

She must work at two jobs that he may have the best of care.

"Smiley Joe" Martin, acting chief of the New York fire department, has been in the service 40 years. He became a fireman at 20.

Through all the excitement he has lived, attending every big fire in New York, he never has lost his composure.

To meet him, one might imagine him a walking advertisement for cures for nervousness.

"The Chief" has as much hair as a moving picture hero and not a wis-

Nebraskans Write For Sea Scout Camp Card

From Grand Island, Nebraska, came inquiries today on the summer camp and training base for Sea Scouts which will be established here July 2 for a two weeks' course. Scout officials said today.

Glenn H. Cline, Oklahoma, sends word six or eight prospective Sea Scouts are planning to come to Port Arthur for training in the Sea Scout camp here, and boys from McKinney, Texas, Abilene, Texas and Chicago also are figuring on enrolling for the Sea Scout training, according to advice received at Scout headquarters.

Sail boats and row boats are being refitted and completely rigged out and re-painted by Port Arthur Sea Scouts, and additional equipment and outfits are being added for the summer camp use. The camp will be held from July 2 until 17 in the boat waters of Lake Sabine, it is planned.

If soap is distributed in powdered form throughout the air of a room, and ignited, it will explode with violence.

43: circulation, 41: advertising, 42.
Full leased United Press Wire.
Newspaper Enterprise Association Service

